

VOLUNTEER AWARDS 2018 NOMINEES

SENIOR FRIENDLY BUSINESS

Hill Avenue Drugs makes the patient's well-being a top priority, making Hill Avenue Drugs a place where seniors feel at home and well-cared-for. The pharmacy knows their customers and their medical history well. They offer compounding, so can make a liquid preparation when needed. They offer prescription delivery, ease of parking, and a senior-friendly, visually-appealing layout. They take time with people, and are only a phone call away.

friendly, visually-appealing layout. They take time with people, and are only a phone call away.

The team led by Beth Kessler - Save On Foods Pharmacy #5505 goes above and beyond for the older adults in the community. The pharmacy manager does education sessions in other venues, as well as providing in-store education sessions. The entire staff exudes a positive outlook, an interest in the overall health and wellness of their customers, and a special concern for seniors. They seek to reach beyond their regular roles when dealing with seniors.

ers, and a special concern for seniors. They seek to reach beyond their regular roles when dealing with seniors.

HERITAGE AND CULTURE

Bill Brennan has spent his life telling stories that make the past come to life. He has served on countless committees and boards dedicated to heritage preservation. He has made a profound contribution to the Lifelong Learning Centre, igniting interest in an amazing variety of historical topics. He also leads Heritage Walking Tours in Regina, making historical events live again through his stories.

Dale Racette has had a lifelong commitment to preserving our past, knowing that it is important to know our history in order to move forward into the future. In his local area, he has assisted in creating a community museum, acquiring artifacts, giving blacksmithing demonstrations, whatever he can contribute. He helps set up, clean up, and take down for museum events, quietly doing repairs, and overseeing many projects.

INTERGENERATIONAL

At Eden Care Communities, their daily intergenerational programming ensures that there are always opportunities for interactions and learning opportunities between the generations. They encourage interactions between children in elementary schools and the Elders in care homes and residences; visits from Saplings Early Learning Child Care Centre, Erhlo Early Learning; and Cosmo Connections and Saskatchewan Abilities. The intergenerational spirit is an integral part of Eden Care.

Harbour Landing Village community is a trailblazer in the concept of intergenerational interaction. Senior residents can visit the day care and play with the children whenever they choose. Intergenerational interactions are enhanced in the restaurant, coffee shop, and hair salon where the public can interact with residents of the Village's independent living, supportive living, memory care, and university student living communities. It is truly a place for all ages.

TEAM WORK

The Kamsack & District Nursing Home Auxiliary has given stellar service to the Home for the past 43 years, raising funds to provide everything from magazine subscriptions to medical equipment, a piano, and the recently completed wheelchair-accessible patio. Over many years and with countless projects, their spirit of caring has been strong. Through their vision, dedication and hard work, they enhance the lives of the community's most vulnerable citizens.

The Regina Beach & District Lions have served their community for 39 years. In that time, they have completed countless projects, including senior appreciation suppers, donating playground equipment to the school, and sponsoring an annual high school scholarship, to name only a few. They see where help is needed, and they ensure that the task is done. This group truly lives to serve.

The Strasbourg Forever ... in Motion Leaders have converted their community into a healthier place to live, work, and play. Their commitment and enthusiasm brings an average 30 to 40 eager exercisers, ranging in age from 50 to 80 plus, to the twice-weekly sessions. Their positive, encouraging attitude and sense of fun has greatly enhanced the experience for the group's members.

A Special Thank You To Our Gold Level Sponsors

ALL SENIORS CARE
LIVING CENTRES™